

VOTER ID is the law

This year, poll workers will ask you to show a current and valid ID when you vote at your polling place

Acceptable Photo IDs include:

- › RI driver's license
- › U.S. passport
- › ID card issued by an educational institution in the United States
- › U.S. military identification card
- › State of Rhode Island or federal government-issued ID card
- › Government-issued medical card

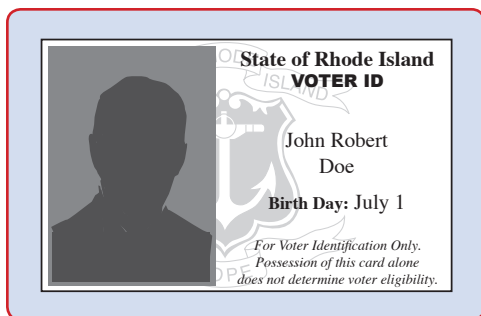

If you do not bring a Photo ID, you can use certain non-Photo IDs including:

- › Birth certificate
- › Social security card
- › Government-issued medical card such as RItE Care

Protecting your vote:

- › No eligible voter will be turned away at the polls. Voters who do not bring an acceptable ID to their polling place can vote using a standard Provisional Ballot, which will be counted if the signature they give at their polling place matches the signature on their voter registration
- › Mail ballots will not require ID
- › Beginning in 2014, only Photo IDs will be accepted at the polls

Voter ID strengthens the public's faith in the integrity of our elections by enabling poll workers to match a voter's face to the name they give at the polls.

Documents you might need to present to get a VOTER ID card:

If you don't have one of those types of current and valid photo ID, you are still eligible to get a free Voter ID, but you must bring one of these types of current and valid IDs:

What if a voter doesn't have any proof of identity at all?

Registered voters who do not have any acceptable proof of ID can still apply. We will compare the voter's signature they give us when they apply for a Voter ID to the signature on their voter registration form. If the signatures match, we will provide a Voter ID.

Where can I get a Voter ID?

Our mobile Voter ID units will visit every city and town in Rhode Island. You can find the entire list of dates and locations on our website at sos.ri.gov or contact us at 222-2340 or elections@sos.ri.gov.

What if I need to replace or update my new Voter ID?
